Our Aims and Objectives

- 1/ Communication and cooperation between persons and organisations with an interest in horseboating
- 2/ Training of crew and horses to acquire the skills necessary for horseboating.
- 3/ Responsible operation of horsedrawn craft on inland waterways.
- 4/ Maintenance and restoration of the waterway environment suitable for horsedrawn craft.
- 5/ Preservation and restoration of the various types of horsedrawn craft.
- 6/ Education about the history and present use of horsedrawn craft.
- 7/ Research into the skills, people, horses, boats, structures and equipment involved in horseboating.
- 8/ Retention of horseboating information in archives.

What's in it for you?

Members of the Horseboating Society can find out about horseboating activities and get involved as crew, photographers, video makers and all the many other duties needed for various trips and activities. Most of all you can join likeminded people who are working to ensure that horse drawn craft and skills remain as much a part of waterway landscape as steam locos are of the railway scene .
